PROFESSIONAL STAFF AVAILABLE FOR CONSULTATION

Ann Boguniewicz, M.D.
Associate Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Boguniewicz is a graduate of the Medical Academy of Warsaw and served a fellowship in Cytopathology at Lankenau Hospital. Dr. Boguniewicz is board certified in Anatomic Pathology and Cytopathology. She specializes in the areas of Surgical Pathology, Breast Pathology and Cytopathology.
Dr. Boguniewicz can be contacted by telephone at 262-5926.

J. Andrew Carlson, M.D.
Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Carlson received his MD from McGill University in Montreal Quebec. He received his pathology residency training from the Mallory Institute of Pathology of Boston University and Massachusetts General Hospital, Harvard Medical School. Dr. Carlson's dermatopathology fellowship training was completed at the University of California, San Francisco. Dr. Carlson is board certified in both anatomic pathology and dermatopathology. Dr. Carlson serves as Chief Dermatopathologist and director of the Dermatopathology Fellowship Training Program. Dr. Carlson can be reached by phone at 262-5454.

Harry G. Dunn, M.D.
Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine; Assistant Director, Hematology Laboratory
Dr. Dunn is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine with an additional certification in Hematology. A graduate of St. Louis University Medical School, he served his internship, residency and fellowship training at Albany Medical Center. Dr. Dunn spent two years of fellowship training in Hematology and practices as an attending physician specializing in Hematology. He can be contacted by telephone at 786-7723.

Llewellyn A. Foulke, MD
Assistant Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Foulke graduated Magna Cum Laude from the School of Medicine at SUNY Buffalo and received his pathology residency training at the University of Pennsylvania where he also completed a cytopathology fellowship. He also completed a surgical pathology fellowship at the MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. Dr. Foulke is board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and cytopathology. He provides surgical pathology, cytopathology diagnostic and consultative services. He can be reached at 262-5926.

Amy Hahn, Ph.D.
Director of Transplantation Immunology Laboratory; Associate Professor of Surgery
Dr. Hahn received her Ph.D. in Immunology from the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine and served her postdoctoral fellowship at the Johns Hopkins Immunogenetics Laboratories. She is a diplomate of the American Board of Histocompatibility and Immunogenetics and holds a New York State Department of Health Certificate of Qualification in Histocompatibility and Cellular Immunology. She specializes in Histocompatibility Testing and Transplantation Immunology. Dr. Hahn can be contacted by telephone at 262-5574.
PROFESSIONAL STAFF AVAILABLE FOR CONSULTATION (continued)

Suzanne M. Homan, M.D., Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Homan received her BS in Biomedical Engineering from the University of Iowa, and her MS in Cell Biology and Cancer Research from the Albany Medical College. She continued at Albany Medical College, subsequently completing her PhD in Cell Biology and Cancer Research. She received her MD from Albany Medical College (Magna Cum Laude) and continued her pathology and laboratory medicine residency training and hematopathology fellowship training at Albany Medical College as well. Dr. Homan is Board Certified in Anatomic and Clinical Pathology and Hematopathology and provides surgical pathology, cytopathology and hematopathology services in addition to serving as Associate Director of Transfusion Medicine, providing hematology and transfusion medicine diagnostic services. Dr. Homan can be reached at homans@mail.amc.edu.

Timothy A. Jennings, M.D.
Professor of Pathology; Director of Surgical Pathology; Director of Anatomic Pathology; Vice Chair for Faculty Practice
Dr. Jennings is Board Certified in Anatomic and Clinical Pathology. A graduate of the University of Mississippi, he served a fellowship in Surgical Pathology at Yale-New Haven Hospital. Dr. Jennings specializes in Surgical Pathology, with particular interest in endocrine, and soft tissue tumors. He can be contacted at 262-5926.

David M. Jones, M.D.
Assistant Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Jones is a graduate of the Albany Medical College and received his anatomic and clinical pathology residency training at the Albany Medical Center. He completed a fellowship in surgical pathology at MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, Texas. Dr. Jones' subspecialty interests are in the areas of gastrointestinal pathology and dermatopathology. Dr. Jones can be reached at 262-5926.

Clemente I. Montero, Ph.D.
Associate Director of Microbiology
Dr. Montero is board certified by the American Board of Medical Microbiology. A graduate of North Carolina State University, Raleigh, NC, served fellowships at the National Institutes of Health Clinical Center and at Weill Cornell Medical College. Dr. Montero specializes in the areas of Bacteriology and Molecular Methods for Pathogen Identification. He can be contacted at 262-3506 or via e-mail at monterc@mail.amc.edu.

Stanley Mudzinski, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine and Immunology and Microbial Disease; Director, Cellular Immunology Laboratory
Dr. Mudzinski received his BS in Materials Engineering from Cornell University and his Ph.D. in Immunopharmacology from Albany Medical College. He also served a postdoctoral fellowship at Albany Medical College. His subspecialty areas of expertise are Flow Cytometry and Cellular Immunology. Dr. Mudzinski can be contacted at 262-5657 or e-mail at mudzins@mail.amc.edu.
Tipu Nazeer, M.D.
Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine; Director of Hematopathology and Fellowship Program
Dr. Nazeer received his medical degree from King Edward Medical College, Pakistan. He completed his residency training and one year of Hematopathology fellowship at Albany Medical College. He also performed one year of fellowship in Oncologic Pathology at the University of Texas, M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, Texas. Dr. Nazeer is board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and performs surgical, cytopathology, autopsy, as well as hematopathology, flow cytometry and molecular diagnostics consultations. He can be contacted by telephone at 262-5926.

Mark Preissler, Ph.D.
Director, Serology/Immunology Laboratory; Instructor in Immunology and Microbial Disease
Dr. Preissler is board certified by the American Board of Medical Laboratory Immunology and received his Ph.D. from Albany Medical College. His subspecialty areas of expertise are flow cytometry, serology, including organ donor serology, and immunology. Dr. Preissler can be contacted by phone at 262-2664 or via e-mail at preissm@mail.amc.edu.

Jiang Qian, MD, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Qian is a medical graduate of Chongqing University of Medical Sciences. He received his Ph.D. from the Medical College of Pennsylvania, and completed a residency in anatomic pathology and neuropathology at the University of Rochester Medical Center, Rochester, NY. Dr. Qian served a two-year fellowship in neuropathology under the direction of Dr. James M. Powers at the University of Rochester. Dr. Qian is board certified in both anatomic pathology and neuropathology. He performs diagnostic surgical pathology, neuropathology and autopsy services at the Albany Medical Center and can be contacted at 262-5926.

Thomas G. Rosano, Ph.D.
Division Head of Laboratory Medicine; Director of Clinical Chemistry; Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Rosano received his Ph.D. from Albany Medical College and served a postdoctoral fellowship in the Department of Laboratory Medicine at the University of Washington in Seattle. Board Certified by both the American Board of Forensic Toxicology and the American Board of Clinical Chemistry, Dr. Rosano serves as Laboratory Director with subspecialty expertise in Clinical Chemistry, Forensic Toxicology, Clinical Toxicology, Endocrinology, Laboratory Management and Computerization. He can be contacted at 262-3501 or e-mail at RosanoT@mail.amc.edu.

Jeffrey S. Ross, M.D.
Professor and Chairman, Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Ross is Board Certified in Anatomic and Clinical Pathology. A graduate of the State University of New York at Buffalo School of Medicine, he served a research fellowship in Surgery at Shriners Burn Institute and teaching fellowships in Pathology at Harvard Medical School and Massachusetts General Hospital. Dr. Ross specializes in the areas of Surgical Pathology, Pulmonary, Gastrointestinal and Genitourinary Pathology, and Molecular Pathology. He can be contacted at 262-5471, fax 262-8092 or e-mail at RossJ@mail.amc.edu.
PROFESSIONAL STAFF AVAILABLE FOR CONSULTATION (continued)

Kathleen A. Stellrecht, Ph.D.
Director of Microbiology; Associate Professor of the Center for Microbial Disease and Immunology; Associate Professor Pathology and Laboratory Medicine. Dr. Stellrecht is board certified by both the American Board of Medical Microbiology and the American Board of Bioanalysis. A graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, she served fellowships at Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York City and Albany Medical Center Hospital. Dr. Stellrecht specializes in the areas of Virology and Molecular Biology. She can be contacted at 262-3587 or e-mail at stellrk@mail.amc.edu.

Thomas A. Swift, Ph.D.
Associate Director of Clinical Chemistry; Assistant Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Swift received his Ph.D. in Biochemistry from Albany Medical College. He served a postdoctoral fellowship at the University of Connecticut Health Center and specializes in the area of Clinical Chemistry, Clinical Toxicology, and Forensic Toxicology. Dr. Swift can be contacted by telephone at 262-3652.

George D. Wilner, M.D.
Medical Director, Clinical Laboratories; Director, Blood Bank and Hematology Laboratory; Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine
Dr. Wilner is certified by the American Board of Pathology in Anatomic Pathology, Clinical Pathology and Hematopathology. A graduate of Northwestern University, he served fellowships at Presbyterian and Montefiore Hospitals in New York City. Dr. Wilner specializes in the areas of Laboratory Hematology, Transfusion Medicine and Hemostasis. He can be contacted by telephone at 262-3501 or by email at wilnerg@mail.amc.edu.